

Handwriting activity

Before Sunday write a sentence on a piece of paper e.g. "this is my handwriting". Get each member of your family to do the same thing - you can even make it interesting by having a few sentences from each person - this must be done without the other members of your family seeing it.

On Sunday, show the children the sentences and see if they can work out who wrote which sentence.

Wordless message

As the leader does the actions the children must try to guess the meaning (these will be given in the powerpoint on Sunday)

Message relay - broken telephone

Select from the list below based on the ages of your children.

Give each child a chance to start the message and see if it reaches you in tact.

To make this challenging you can place members around your property or spaced out in a room

1. I going to sleep like a two-year-old after eating pizza.
2. When you're in an exam and can't stop coughing.
3. Dumbo's real name is Jumbo Junior.
4. You've been voted off the island.
5. Nobody's favorite food is cabbage.
6. Unlucky Laura lost her lunch at the library last week.
7. Koala bears are cute and pandas bears are cuddly.
8. When I was six, I had a pet guinea pig that I named "Sir Piggsworth."
9. The only thing I like better than reading a book is watching the movie and never reading the book.
10. Have you ever noticed that it only ever seems to rain when you have to go somewhere?
11. You're a sad, strange little man, and you have my pity.
12. Don't move! There's a gigantic spider behind you!
13. The entrance is guarded by a fire-breathing, near-sighted dragon with a fear of heights.
14. I have no idea what I'm doing, but I know I'm doing it really well
15. Minions would look really weird with contacts.
